

Fieldwork Search

There are different types of fieldwork depending on what is chosen for the project itself.. Looking at examples of various types of fieldwork should help you better understand some of your options.

Fieldwork Options

Type of Project

Example

Physical

A student designed and painted a mural at a Parks and Recreation pool located within the local community.

A student made a replica of the international space station.

Performance

A student planned, produced, and performed in a music concert.

A student choreographed routines for a dance recital.

Teaching/Leadership

A student designed lesson plans for and taught younger students at an elementary school.

A student volunteered as an aide in a classroom for students with Autism.

Career-Related

A student volunteered to work in several dentist offices.

A student job-shadowed police officers in two cities, trained intensively to meet police academy physical strength and agility standards, and underwent aptitude and psychological testing at the local junior college. (Note that this is more than just a ride-along.)