

Presentation Outline

Follow this outline for creating a successful presentation.

Introduction

- Get the attention of your audience by using a story, personal experience, background information, a quote, or any other appropriate method related to your topic
- Introduce yourself
- Introduce your topic
- Explain why you became interested in this topic

Body

The Research Paper

- Introduce your thesis
- Give a summary of how this paper relates to your fieldwork
- Tell what you found to be the most fascinating part of your research
- If doing the research paper presented any challenges for you, explain what was challenging and how you overcame that challenge

The Fieldwork

- Explain what you did for your fieldwork and why
- Clarify the connection between your research paper and your fieldwork
- Give a detailed explanation of the process of your fieldwork. Make sure that you explain how you spent your reported fieldwork hours and your relationship with your mentor
- Explain what the valuable outcome of your time was
- Describe how you feel about accomplishing that outcome
- Explain how the knowledge that you gained from your research paper helped you
- Explain what was challenging for you about doing your fieldwork
- Explain how you overcame that challenge

Conclusion

- Reflect on what you learned from the entire Senior Project experience
- Describe how you have grown as a person
- Explain how the Senior Project experience will help you in the future
- Ask the judges if they have any questions

*Print out your PowerPoint slides (black/white) to use as your note cards. Give a copy to the person running your slide show. You can cut/paste your speech onto the Power Point note sheets.