

Senior Project Reflection

Written Reflection

Your written reflection will be an in-depth “looking back” at the entire sr. project experience. As you self reflect, be sure to address whatever questions below apply to you and your project. All seniors should address at least questions #1, #5, #6, #8 and #11.

NOTE: These will be areas you will also want to address in your presentation.

1. What was the best and worst experience of the entire process?
2. How has the experience changed you? (Skills, attitudes, habits, resources, capabilities, poise, presentation, etc.)
3. What would you change if you could do it again?
4. What advice do you have for next year's seniors?
5. What did you learn along the way which was unexpected and not anticipated?
6. How did completing the Senior Project allow you to see things in more depth? Were you surprised by the complexity of your topic once you began your research and fieldwork project? How did you see other students and teacher in a different light? In what ways did you understand and perceive a broader picture of the educational process?
7. In what ways has the Senior Project changed your concept of yourself? Are you more confident of your abilities? Are you more focused and directed? Are you more willing to take a risk? In what ways has it perhaps raised more questions than given answers?
8. Which aspect of the Senior Project stretched you the most? How did you react to this challenge? How did you feel during the learning stretch? How do you feel now that it is over?
9. How did working through the Senior Project process bring the senior class closer together?
10. How has this experience influenced your future planning in terms of work, education, or the development of personal interests?
11. How has completing the Senior Project affected the way you approach work, dealing with people, or presenting yourself publicly?
12. What humorous incident happened during the process? Was it funny when it occurred or only in retrospect?
